Lifestyle

You in three words

Creativity · Kindness · Living in the moment

At your best, you choose what feels right in the moment and stay true to yourself.

Type frequency: estimates for U.S. adults from a national sample of 3,009 people (Myers et al., 1998). Our test uses its own 4 scales, so the figure is an estimate.

CHAPTER 2

Your 4 scales

Each scale has two sides. Nobody is 100% one side — your answers showed which side you lean toward. It is marked with ✓.

Energy — Where do you get your energy?

Social ✓ Quiet

You recharge in quiet. A calm morning, a book or one good friend gives you energy back.

Mind — What do you notice first?

Visionary ✓ Grounded

You trust facts, experience and practical details. You notice what others miss.

Decisions — How do you decide?

Logic ✓ Heart

You decide with your heart. You think first about how a choice affects people.

Lifestyle — How do you like to live?

Planner ✓ Flexible

You like open options and room to change course. You adapt easily.

CHAPTER 3

Your strengths

These are the things people value in you — often more than you realize.

💛 Creativity

You see beauty in everyday things.

⭐ Kindness

You are gentle and kind with everyone.

🌿 Living in the moment

You enjoy the present moment fully.

Your mind’s natural strengths

Based on how you take in information and how you like to live, your mind is naturally good at:

Memory for details · Flexibility

Your brain-training plan builds on these strengths and trains the areas that get less practice.

CHAPTER 4

Your blind spots

Every strength has a flip side. Blind spots are not flaws — they are habits worth noticing.

Avoids planning ahead

Planning ahead feels like a chore.

> Try this: Plan just one thing a week ahead — the rest can stay open.

Hides hurt feelings to keep the peace

You hide hurt feelings to keep the peace.

> Try this: Say “That hurt a little” — calmly, once.

What slips first for your type

For The Artist, what tends to slip first is holding a thought when life gets busy. Your brain-training plan in Chapter 10 starts exactly there.

CHAPTER 5

How you make decisions

Heart Flexible

You follow your values and your gut, and you like room to change your mind. Watch for: letting a decision drift until someone else makes it for you.

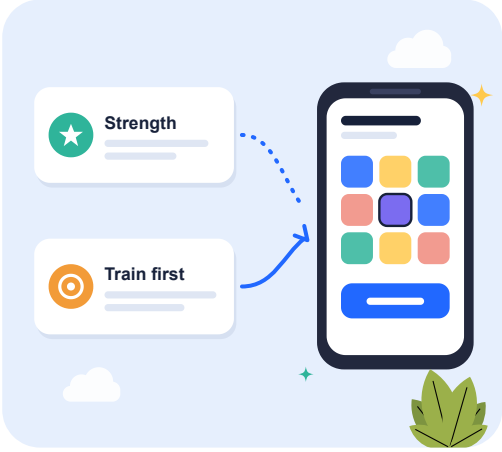

At your best, you choose what feels right in the moment and stay true to yourself.

Three small habits for better decisions

1. Pick a small deadline so the choice stays yours, not someone else's.
2. Talk it over with one trusted person, then decide within a day.
3. Write down what matters most to you — it makes choices faster.

Why this matters for your mind

Deciding uses your working memory: holding several options in mind and comparing them. The Logic and Math games in your [Company] plan practice exactly that — in a few relaxed minutes a day.

CHAPTER 6

Relationships and communication

You are a gentle, loyal listener with a few deep friendships. People open up to you. Share your own feelings more often — the people close to you want to hear them.

With your family

You are the quiet heart of the family. You listen, you notice feelings and you care deeply, often without being asked.

With friends

You have a small circle of close friends who open up to you. Make sure you also let them take care of you.

With children and grandchildren

Your children and grandchildren love your patience. A quiet walk, a puzzle or a long talk with you can be the best part of their day.

You show care through actions; people treasure it.

Staying sharp for the people you love

Remembering names, following a fast family conversation, keeping up with your children's and grandchildren's news — these are the everyday moments your brain-training plan is built around.

CHAPTER 7

You at your best

Everyone has good days and hard days. Knowing your pattern helps you get back to your best faster.

At your best

Gentle, sensitive and creative. You notice beauty in everyday things.

Under stress

You may hide your feelings, avoid conflict and feel overlooked.

What brings you back

Time in nature, music or making something with your hands.

How to talk to you

Share this with the people close to you.

1. Talk one-on-one, in a calm place.
2. Be gentle with criticism — you take it to heart.
3. Ask what you think; you may not say it first.

CHAPTER 8

People, pastimes and questions

You may share your type with

Frida Kahlo
painter

Bob Dylan
singer-songwriter

Kevin Costner
actor and director

Based on public descriptions of these people, not official assessments.

Pastimes you may enjoy

- Gardening
- Crafts, woodwork or knitting
- Nature walks and birdwatching
- Photography

Three questions for this week

1. What made me feel most like myself this week?
2. What small step would move a dream forward?
3. Who do I want to spend more time with?

CHAPTER 9

How your mind works

Your mind is tuned to the senses and to the present. Gentle focus games help you hold a thought when life gets busy.

Your strength is being present and noticing. What slips first is holding a thought when life gets busy.

Small slips with names and details are common at any age. Short daily practice keeps your mind in the habit of noticing.

Your mind in four areas

These are the four areas you can train in the [Company] app. Here is the order that fits your type.

🧩 Logic	seeing patterns and finding a new order of steps	Week 1 · train first
🎯 Focus	staying with one task and noticing what changed	Week 2 · train next
🧠 Memorization	holding names, numbers and details in mind	Week 3 · new areas
➗ Math	quick mental math and holding several numbers at once	Week 3 · new areas

Personality describes habits of thinking, not your memory or health. Brain games are practice, not treatment. If you are worried about your memory, talk to your doctor.

CHAPTER 10

Your brain-training plan

4 weeks · 10 minutes a day · 2 games a day, about 5 minutes each. Each week focuses on one area of your mind, in the order that fits The Artist.

WEEK 1 🧩 Logic

Detail-minded people rely on proven routines. Logic puzzles train the mind to find new patterns when routines change.

Single Line — Fill the whole shape with one continuous line.

> Why it's for you: Short, visual puzzles that reward a fresh look rather than a fixed method.

Dots — Connect dots of the same color without crossing the lines.

> Why it's for you: Quick to start and you can try another path at once — made for a mind that likes to experiment.

This week helps you: Solve everyday problems and adjust calmly when plans or routines change.
You'll know it's working when your Logic number on the Progress tab is higher than on day 1, and when a plan changes, you find a plan B in a few minutes, without stress.

WEEK 2 🎯 Focus

Flexible minds jump between ideas. Attention games help you stay with one task until it is done.

Fruit Sort — Sort the fruits so each basket holds one kind.

> Why it's for you: A tidy, practical task — focus without pressure.

Missing items — Look at a set of items, then spot what has gone missing.

> Why it's for you: Your eye for detail is a strength here — this keeps it quick.

This week helps you: Keep track of your keys and glasses, and follow a conversation without losing the thread.
You'll know it's working when your Focus number on the Progress tab is higher than on day 1, and you finish a chapter, a recipe or a TV episode without starting over.

WEEK 3 🧠 Memorization + ➗ Math

This week brings in the two areas you haven't trained yet. Play one game from each, every day.

Pair Tiles — Memorization: Remember where the pairs of pictures are, then find them on a closed board.

> Why it's for you: Pictures stick best for a mind that thinks in people and moments — like putting a name to a face.

Comparison — Math: Choose which side is bigger, quickly.

> Why it's for you: Quick, friendly rounds — trust your first sense of the numbers.

This week helps you: Remember names and details without the awkward pause. Think quickly — check a bill or count change in your head.

WEEK 4 All four together

New games from all four areas. Play 2 of these each day, changing the mix, and see which area grew the most since day 1.

Dots	Logic: Connect dots of the same color without crossing the lines.
Memo	Focus: Memorize the positions of the cards, then find them all.
Fast Math	Math: Solve quick sums before the time runs out.
Missing items	Focus: Look at a set of items, then spot what has gone missing.

Your 28-day check-in

Tick a circle each day you play. Aim for at least 5 days a week — that is how a habit forms.

	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat	Sun
Week 1	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 2	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 3	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 4	○	○	○	○	○	○	○

CHAPTER 12

About this report

Entertainment, not diagnosis

This personality test is for self-discovery and entertainment. It is not a medical or psychological diagnosis and is not a substitute for professional evaluation.

How we built your type

You rated 24 statements, six for each of four scales: Energy, Mind, Decisions and Lifestyle. Each scale shows which side you lean toward. Your four sides together give one of 16 types. Our scales and type names are our own.

About the rarity figure

How common each type is comes from estimates for U.S. adults in a national sample of 3,009 people (Myers et al., 1998). Because our test uses its own scales, the figure is an estimate.

About brain games

[Company] games are everyday mental practice. They are not a medical treatment. If you notice changes in your memory that worry you, please talk to your doctor.
