You in three words

Imagination · Empathy · Loyalty to what matters

At your best, you follow your values and your gut, and you choose what feels true.

Type frequency: estimates for U.S. adults from a national sample of 3,009 people (Myers et al., 1998). Our test uses its own 4 scales, so the figure is an estimate.

CHAPTER 2

Your 4 scales

Each scale has two sides. Nobody is 100% one side — your answers showed which side you lean toward. It is marked with ✓.

Energy — Where do you get your energy?

Social — ✓ Quiet

You recharge in quiet. A calm morning, a book or one good friend gives you energy back.

Mind — What do you notice first?

Visionary ✓ — Grounded

You notice ideas, meanings and possibilities. You like to ask “what if?”

Decisions — How do you decide?

Logic — ✓ Heart

You decide with your heart. You think first about how a choice affects people.

Lifestyle — How do you like to live?

Planner — ✓ Flexible

You like open options and room to change course. You adapt easily.

CHAPTER 3

Your strengths

These are the things people value in you — often more than you realize.

💛 Imagination

You imagine stories, places and ideas in rich detail.

⭐ Empathy

You feel with people and understand them.

🌿 Loyalty to what matters

You stand by the people and values you love.

Your mind’s natural strengths

Based on how you take in information and how you like to live, your mind is naturally good at:

Big-picture thinking · Flexibility

Your brain-training plan builds on these strengths and trains the areas that get less practice.

CHAPTER 4

Your blind spots

Every strength has a flip side. Blind spots are not flaws — they are habits worth noticing.

🔍 Gets lost in thought and loses track of time

You can drift into thought and lose track of time.

> Try this: Set a gentle reminder for the things that have a time.

🌱 Avoids conflict even when it matters

You avoid conflict even when your view matters.

> Try this: Say one honest sentence, kindly — that is enough.

What slips first for your type

For The Dreamer, what tends to slip first is short-term details when your mind wanders. Your brain-training plan in Chapter 10 starts exactly there.

CHAPTER 5

How you make decisions

Heart Flexible

You follow your values and your gut, and you like room to change your mind. Watch for: letting a decision drift until someone else makes it for you.

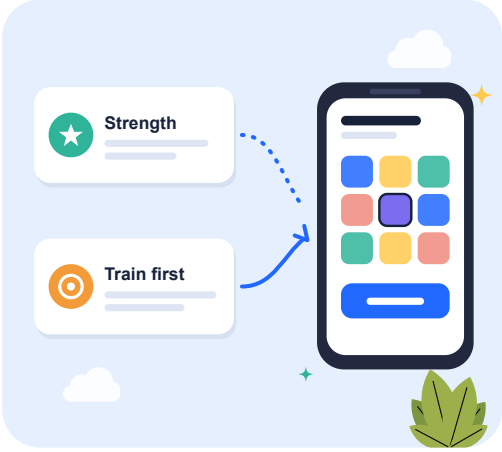

At your best, you follow your values and your gut, and you choose what feels true.

Three small habits for better decisions

1. Pick a small deadline so the choice stays yours, not someone else's.
2. Talk it over with one trusted person, then decide within a day.
3. Write down what matters most to you — it makes choices faster.

Why this matters for your mind

Deciding uses your working memory: holding several options in mind and comparing them. The Logic and Math games in your [Company] plan practice exactly that — in a few relaxed minutes a day.

CHAPTER 6

Relationships and communication

You are a gentle, loyal listener with a few deep friendships. People open up to you. Share your own feelings more often — the people close to you want to hear them.

With your family

You are the quiet heart of the family. You listen, you notice feelings and you care deeply, often without being asked.

With friends

You have a small circle of close friends who open up to you. Make sure you also let them take care of you.

With children and grandchildren

Your children and grandchildren love your patience. A quiet walk, a puzzle or a long talk with you can be the best part of their day.

> Your loyalty runs deep; let people see your feelings too.

Staying sharp for the people you love

Remembering names, following a fast family conversation, keeping up with your children's and grandchildren's news — these are the everyday moments your brain-training plan is built around.

CHAPTER 7

You at your best

Everyone has good days and hard days. Knowing your pattern helps you get back to your best faster.

At your best

Kind, imaginative and true to your values. You see the good in people.

Under stress

You may take things to heart, pull away and lose track of practical tasks.

What brings you back

Music, nature or something creative — then one small practical step.

How to talk to you

Share this with the people close to you.

1. Talk one-on-one, in a calm place.
2. Be gentle with criticism — you take it to heart.
3. Ask what you think; you may not say it first.

CHAPTER 8

People, pastimes and questions

You may share your type with

J.R.R. Tolkien
author of The Lord of the Rings

Audrey Hepburn
actress and humanitarian

Fred Rogers
host of Mister Rogers' Neighborhood

Based on public descriptions of these people, not official assessments.

Pastimes you may enjoy

- Writing, journaling or a memoir
- Reading and history
- Puzzles and strategy games
- Learning a language

Three questions for this week

1. What made me feel most like myself this week?
2. What small step would move a dream forward?
3. Who do I want to spend more time with?

CHAPTER 9

How your mind works

Your mind wanders to possibilities and memories. That is a gift for creativity — and a reason to train focus and short-term memory.

Your strength is imagination. What slips first is short-term memory and focus when your mind wanders.

Small slips with names and details are common at any age. Short daily practice keeps your mind in the habit of noticing.

Your mind in four areas

These are the four areas you can train in the [Company] app. Here is the order that fits your type.

🧠	Memorization	holding names, numbers and details in mind	Week 1 · train first
🎯	Focus	staying with one task and noticing what changed	Week 2 · train next
🧩	Logic	seeing patterns and finding a new order of steps	Week 3 · new areas
➗	Math	quick mental math and holding several numbers at once	Week 3 · new areas

Personality describes habits of thinking, not your memory or health. Brain games are practice, not treatment. If you are worried about your memory, talk to your doctor.

CHAPTER 10

Your brain-training plan

4 weeks · 10 minutes a day · 2 games a day, about 5 minutes each. Each week focuses on one area of your mind, in the order that fits The Dreamer.

WEEK 1 🧠 Memorization

Big-picture minds race ahead and let small details slip. Short memory games keep names, dates and lists close at hand.

Pair Tiles — Remember where the pairs of pictures are, then find them on a closed board.

> Why it's for you: Pictures stick best for a mind that thinks in people and moments — like putting a name to a face.

Memo — Memorize the positions of the cards, then find them all. (Focus game)

> Why it's for you: A gentle start: you remember where things are, like keys or glasses.

This week helps you: Remember names and details without the awkward pause.
You'll know it's working when your Memorization number on the Progress tab is higher than on day 1, and you can recall the names of three new people you met this week.

WEEK 2 🎯 Focus

Flexible minds jump between ideas. Attention games help you stay with one task until it is done.

Memo — Memorize the positions of the cards, then find them all.

> Why it's for you: It trains you to notice where things are, not only what they mean.

Numbers — Find the numbers in order as fast as you can.

> Why it's for you: Keeps a wandering mind on one simple goal: the next number.

This week helps you: Keep track of your keys and glasses, and follow a conversation without losing the thread.
You'll know it's working when your Focus number on the Progress tab is higher than on day 1, and you finish a chapter, a recipe or a TV episode without starting over.

WEEK 3 🧩 Logic + ➗ Math

This week brings in the two areas you haven't trained yet. Play one game from each, every day.

Single Line — Logic: Fill the whole shape with one continuous line.

> Why it's for you: Short, visual puzzles that reward a fresh look rather than a fixed method.

Comparison — Math: Choose which side is bigger, quickly.

> Why it's for you: Quick, friendly rounds — trust your first sense of the numbers.

This week helps you: Solve everyday problems and adjust calmly when plans or routines change. Think quickly — check a bill or count change in your head.

WEEK 4 All four together

New games from all four areas. Play 2 of these each day, changing the mix, and see which area grew the most since day 1.

Dots	Logic: Connect dots of the same color without crossing the lines.
Memo	Focus: Memorize the positions of the cards, then find them all.
Fast Math	Math: Solve quick sums before the time runs out.
Numbers	Focus: Find the numbers in order as fast as you can.

Your 28-day check-in

Tick a circle each day you play. Aim for at least 5 days a week — that is how a habit forms.

	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat	Sun
Week 1	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 2	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 3	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 4	○	○	○	○	○	○	○

CHAPTER 12

About this report

Entertainment, not diagnosis

This personality test is for self-discovery and entertainment. It is not a medical or psychological diagnosis and is not a substitute for professional evaluation.

How we built your type

You rated 24 statements, six for each of four scales: Energy, Mind, Decisions and Lifestyle. Each scale shows which side you lean toward. Your four sides together give one of 16 types. Our scales and type names are our own.

About the rarity figure

How common each type is comes from estimates for U.S. adults in a national sample of 3,009 people (Myers et al., 1998). Because our test uses its own scales, the figure is an estimate.

About brain games

[Company] games are everyday mental practice. They are not a medical treatment. If you notice changes in your memory that worry you, please talk to your doctor.
