You in three words

Hospitality · Loyalty · Remembering what people like

At your best, you make choices that keep people connected and traditions alive.

Type frequency: estimates for U.S. adults from a national sample of 3,009 people (Myers et al., 1998). Our test uses its own 4 scales, so the figure is an estimate.

CHAPTER 2

Your 4 scales

Each scale has two sides. Nobody is 100% one side — your answers showed which side you lean toward. It is marked with ✓.

Energy — Where do you get your energy?

Social ✓ Quiet

You recharge around people. Conversation, visits and shared plans give you energy.

Mind — What do you notice first?

Visionary ✓ Grounded

You trust facts, experience and practical details. You notice what others miss.

Decisions — How do you decide?

Logic ✓ Heart

You decide with your heart. You think first about how a choice affects people.

Lifestyle — How do you like to live?

Planner ✓ Flexible

You like a plan, order and finished tasks. You feel best when things are settled.

CHAPTER 3

Your strengths

These are the things people value in you — often more than you realize.

💛 Hospitality

You make every guest feel at home.

⭐ Loyalty

You stand by your people, always.

🌿 Remembering what people like

You remember how everyone takes their coffee.

Your mind’s natural strengths

Based on how you take in information and how you like to live, your mind is naturally good at:

Memory for details · Focus

Your brain-training plan builds on these strengths and trains the areas that get less practice.

CHAPTER 4

Your blind spots

Every strength has a flip side. Blind spots are not flaws — they are habits worth noticing.

Needs approval more than you show

You need others' approval more than you show.

> Try this: Do one thing this week only because you enjoy it.

Finds it hard to say no

Saying no is hard for you.

> Try this: Try "Not this time, but thank you for asking."

What slips first for your type

For The Host, what tends to slip first is flexibility when plans change. Your brain-training plan in Chapter 10 starts exactly there.

CHAPTER 5

How you make decisions

Heart Planner

You decide with your heart and like to have things settled. You think about how a choice will affect the people you love, then you commit. Watch for: saying yes to keep the peace when you mean no.

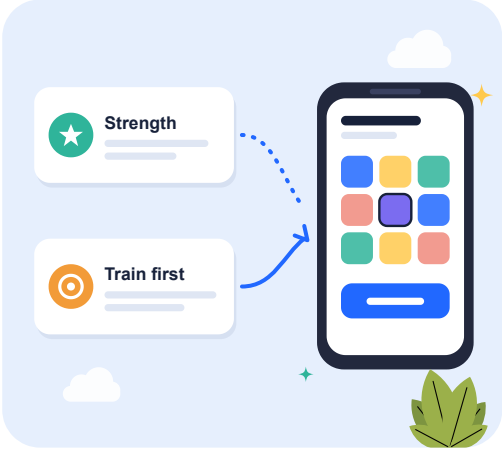

At your best, you make choices that keep people connected and traditions alive.

Three small habits for better decisions

1. Ask yourself: “Would I say yes if nobody would be disappointed?”
2. It is fine to answer “Let me think about it” instead of yes on the spot.
3. Add one fact to every heart decision: cost, time or distance.

Why this matters for your mind

Deciding uses your working memory: holding several options in mind and comparing them. The Logic and Math games in your [Company] plan practice exactly that — in a few relaxed minutes a day.

CHAPTER 6

Relationships and communication

You are warm and easy to talk to. You make friends quickly and remember what matters to them. Make sure your own needs get heard, too.

With your family

You are the warm center of family life. You remember the birthdays and the little things, and people come to you when they need comfort.

With friends

You make friends easily and keep them for years. You notice when someone is quiet and you reach out first.

With children and grandchildren

Your children and grandchildren feel welcome and safe with you. Your stories and your attention are what they carry with them.

> You bring everyone together; let others host you once in a while.

Staying sharp for the people you love

Remembering names, following a fast family conversation, keeping up with your children's and grandchildren's news — these are the everyday moments your brain-training plan is built around.

CHAPTER 7

You at your best

Everyone has good days and hard days. Knowing your pattern helps you get back to your best faster.

☀️ At your best

Generous, welcoming and thoughtful. Everyone feels at home around you.

🌧️ Under stress

You may worry what people think, over-give and feel hurt when it goes unnoticed.

🌿 What brings you back

A cheerful get-together with close friends — and a day off from hosting.

How to talk to you

Share this with the people close to you.

1. Start with warmth — ask how you are.
2. Say thank you out loud; it means a lot to you.
3. Make plans together and include you.

CHAPTER 8

People, pastimes and questions

You may share your type with

Sally Field
actress

Jennifer Garner
actress

Taylor Swift
singer and songwriter

Based on public descriptions of these people, not official assessments.

Pastimes you may enjoy

- Volunteering in your community
- Cooking for friends and family
- Group walks or dancing
- Card and board game nights

Three questions for this week

1. What do I need this week — not others?
2. Where did I say yes but mean no?
3. Who made me smile, and have I told them?

CHAPTER 9

How your mind works

Your mind tracks people, names and plans all day long. Variety and new puzzles keep that busy mind quick and flexible.

Your strength is tracking people, names and plans. What slips first is flexibility when your busy schedule changes.

Small slips with names and details are common at any age. Short daily practice keeps your mind in the habit of noticing.

Your mind in four areas

These are the four areas you can train in the [Company] app. Here is the order that fits your type.

🧩 Logic	seeing patterns and finding a new order of steps	Week 1 · train first
➗ Math	quick mental math and holding several numbers at once	Week 2 · train next
🧠 Memorization	holding names, numbers and details in mind	Week 3 · new areas
🎯 Focus	staying with one task and noticing what changed	Week 3 · new areas

Personality describes habits of thinking, not your memory or health. Brain games are practice, not treatment. If you are worried about your memory, talk to your doctor.

CHAPTER 10

Your brain-training plan

4 weeks · 10 minutes a day · 2 games a day, about 5 minutes each. Each week focuses on one area of your mind, in the order that fits The Host.

WEEK 1 🧩 Logic

Detail-minded people rely on proven routines. Logic puzzles train the mind to find new patterns when routines change.

Water Sort — Pour colored water between glasses until each glass holds one color.

> Why it's for you: Calm, step by step and no rush — you plan the order, then watch it work.

Single Line — Fill the whole shape with one continuous line.

> Why it's for you: A small puzzle you can finish in seconds — an easy first win of the day.

This week helps you: Solve everyday problems and adjust calmly when plans or routines change.
You'll know it's working when your Logic number on the Progress tab is higher than on day 1, and when a plan changes, you find a plan B in a few minutes, without stress.

WEEK 2 ➗ Math

Planners think best on a set path. Quick mental math trains speed and working memory, so the mind adapts fast when plans change.

Comparison — Choose which side is bigger, quickly.

> Why it's for you: Quick, friendly rounds — trust your first sense of the numbers.

Fast Math — Solve quick sums before the time runs out.

> Why it's for you: Short rounds of everyday sums — like checking the change.

This week helps you: Think quickly — check a bill or count change in your head.
You'll know it's working when your Math number on the Progress tab is higher than on day 1, and you check a restaurant bill or the change at the store in your head.

WEEK 3 🧠 Memorization + 🎯 Focus

This week brings in the two areas you haven't trained yet. Play one game from each, every day.

Pair Tiles — Memorization: Remember where the pairs of pictures are, then find them on a closed board.

> Why it's for you: Pictures stick best for a mind that thinks in people and moments — like putting a name to a face.

Fruit Sort — Focus: Sort the fruits so each basket holds one kind.

> Why it's for you: A tidy, practical task — focus without pressure.

This week helps you: Remember names and details without the awkward pause. Keep track of your keys and glasses, and follow a conversation without losing the thread.

WEEK 4 All four together

New games from all four areas. Play 2 of these each day, changing the mix, and see which area grew the most since day 1.

Single Line	Logic: Fill the whole shape with one continuous line.
Memo	Focus: Memorize the positions of the cards, then find them all.
Fast Math	Math: Solve quick sums before the time runs out.
Missing items	Focus: Look at a set of items, then spot what has gone missing.

Your 28-day check-in

Tick a circle each day you play. Aim for at least 5 days a week — that is how a habit forms.

	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat	Sun
Week 1	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 2	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 3	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 4	○	○	○	○	○	○	○

CHAPTER 12

About this report

Entertainment, not diagnosis

This personality test is for self-discovery and entertainment. It is not a medical or psychological diagnosis and is not a substitute for professional evaluation.

How we built your type

You rated 24 statements, six for each of four scales: Energy, Mind, Decisions and Lifestyle. Each scale shows which side you lean toward. Your four sides together give one of 16 types. Our scales and type names are our own.

About the rarity figure

How common each type is comes from estimates for U.S. adults in a national sample of 3,009 people (Myers et al., 1998). Because our test uses its own scales, the figure is an estimate.

About brain games

[Company] games are everyday mental practice. They are not a medical treatment. If you notice changes in your memory that worry you, please talk to your doctor.
