Your type is one of 16. Each has its own strengths, blind spots and way of thinking — this report is about yours.

Your four sides

Social Energy

Visionary
Mind

Logic
Decisions

Planner
Lifestyle

You in three words

Clear decisions · Natural leadership · Turning ideas into action

At your best, you decide quickly and clearly, then carry everyone with you.

CHAPTER 2

Your 4 scales

Each scale has two sides. Nobody is 100% one side — your answers showed which side you lean toward. It is marked with ✓.

Energy — Where do you get your energy?

Social ✓ Quiet

You recharge around people. Conversation, visits and shared plans give you energy.

Mind — What do you notice first?

Visionary ✓ Grounded

You notice ideas, meanings and possibilities. You like to ask “what if?”

Decisions — How do you decide?

Logic ✓ Heart

You decide with your head. You weigh facts and fairness first.

Lifestyle — How do you like to live?

Planner ✓ Flexible

You like a plan, order and finished tasks. You feel best when things are settled.

CHAPTER 3

Your strengths

These are the things people value in you — often more than you realize.

💛 Clear decisions

You can make the call when others hesitate.

⭐ Natural leadership

People follow you because you know where things should go.

🌿 Turning ideas into action

You turn ideas into plans and plans into results.

Your mind’s natural strengths

Based on how you take in information and how you like to live, your mind is naturally good at:

Big-picture thinking · Focus

Your brain-training plan builds on these strengths and trains the areas that get less practice.

CHAPTER 4

Your blind spots

Every strength has a flip side. Blind spots are not flaws — they are habits worth noticing.

Can push too hard and too fast

Your speed can leave others behind.

> Try this: Before you act, ask the quietest person what they think.

May not notice when others feel overruled

People may agree with you only to avoid a debate.

> Try this: Say “Tell me if you see it differently” — and mean it.

What slips first for your type

For The Captain, what tends to slip first is names and small details you rush past. Your brain-training plan in Chapter 10 starts exactly there.

CHAPTER 5

How you make decisions

Logic Planner

You decide with your head and like to settle things early. You weigh the facts, make a plan and stick to it. Watch for: deciding before you have heard everyone out.

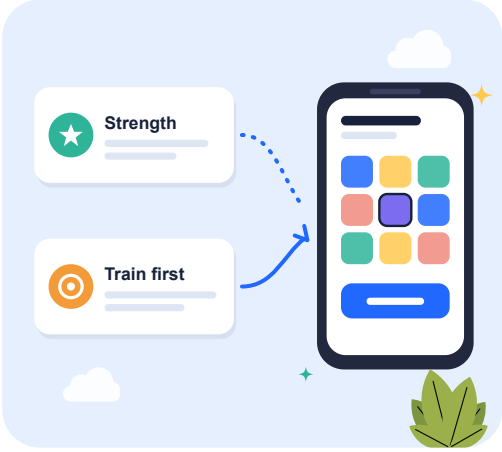

At your best, you decide quickly and clearly, then carry everyone with you.

Three small habits for better decisions

1. Before you decide, ask one person “What am I missing?”
2. Give big choices one night of sleep, even when the answer seems clear.
3. When a plan has to change, list two new options before you pick one.

Why this matters for your mind

Deciding uses your working memory: holding several options in mind and comparing them. The Logic and Math games in your [Company] plan practice exactly that — in a few relaxed minutes a day.

CHAPTER 6

Relationships and communication

You are lively and direct. People always know where they stand with you, and you enjoy a good debate. Your loved ones may sometimes need more warmth than facts.

With your family

In the family you are often the one who speaks up, organizes and says what needs to be said. Your honesty is a gift; a softer start makes it easier to hear.

With friends

Friends enjoy your energy and your opinions. You keep conversations lively and you are the first to suggest a plan.

With children and grandchildren

With your children and grandchildren you are the one with a plan or a challenge ready: a game, a question, a trip. Let them win an argument now and then — they will remember it.

Your loved ones look to you to lead; they also need you to listen.

Staying sharp for the people you love

Remembering names, following a fast family conversation, keeping up with your children's and grandchildren's news — these are the everyday moments your brain-training plan is built around.

CHAPTER 7

You at your best

Everyone has good days and hard days. Knowing your pattern helps you get back to your best faster.

At your best

Decisive and inspiring. You take charge, and things get done.

Under stress

You may push too hard, take over and lose patience with slower people.

What brings you back

Hand one task to someone else, and do something physical — a walk, gardening, a swim.

How to talk to you

Share this with the people close to you.

1. Get to the point — you like a straight answer.
2. Disagree openly; you enjoy a good debate.
3. Invite you to plan or lead something together.

CHAPTER 8

People, pastimes and questions

You may share your type with

Steve Jobs
co-founder of Apple

Whoopi Goldberg
actress and TV host

Harrison Ford
actor, Indiana Jones

Based on public descriptions of these people, not official assessments.

Pastimes you may enjoy

- Book or discussion club
- Travel to new places
- Teaching or mentoring
- Trying a new class

Three questions for this week

1. What is one plan I could loosen this week?
2. Whose opinion have I not asked for yet?
3. What did I do well that I did not notice?

CHAPTER 9

How your mind works

Your mind is fast and goal-driven: it sets a target and pushes toward it. Keeping it flexible helps you adapt when life changes the plan.

Your strength is drive. What slips first is detail: names, dates and the small steps you rush past.

Small slips with names and details are common at any age. Short daily practice keeps your mind in the habit of noticing.

Your mind in four areas

These are the four areas you can train in the [Company] app. Here is the order that fits your type.

🧠 Memorization	holding names, numbers and details in mind	Week 1 · train first
➗ Math	quick mental math and holding several numbers at once	Week 2 · train next
🧩 Logic	seeing patterns and finding a new order of steps	Week 3 · new areas
🎯 Focus	staying with one task and noticing what changed	Week 3 · new areas

Personality describes habits of thinking, not your memory or health. Brain games are practice, not treatment. If you are worried about your memory, talk to your doctor.

CHAPTER 10

Your brain-training plan

4 weeks · 10 minutes a day · 2 games a day, about 5 minutes each. Each week focuses on one area of your mind, in the order that fits The Captain.

WEEK 1 🧠 Memorization

Big-picture minds race ahead and let small details slip. Short memory games keep names, dates and lists close at hand.

Code — Remember a short code and repeat it back.

> Why it's for you: Short sequences, like a PIN or a phone number — precise and measurable.

Pair Tiles — Remember where the pairs of pictures are, then find them on a closed board.

> Why it's for you: It turns memory into a clear score: pairs found and accuracy.

This week helps you: Remember names and details without the awkward pause.
You'll know it's working when your Memorization number on the Progress tab is higher than on day 1, and you can recall the names of three new people you met this week.

WEEK 2 ➗ Math

Planners think best on a set path. Quick mental math trains speed and working memory, so the mind adapts fast when plans change.

Fast Math — Solve quick sums before the time runs out.

> Why it's for you: Clear right-or-wrong answers and a score you can beat tomorrow.

Cross Math — Fill in the missing numbers so every line of the crossword adds up.

> Why it's for you: A crossword made of numbers — logic and arithmetic together.

This week helps you: Think quickly — check a bill or count change in your head.
You'll know it's working when your Math number on the Progress tab is higher than on day 1, and you check a restaurant bill or the change at the store in your head.

WEEK 3 🧩 Logic + 🎯 Focus

This week brings in the two areas you haven't trained yet. Play one game from each, every day.

Water Sort — Logic: Pour colored water between glasses until each glass holds one color.

> Why it's for you: Calm, step by step and no rush — you plan the order, then watch it work.

Memo — Focus: Memorize the positions of the cards, then find them all.

> Why it's for you: It trains you to notice where things are, not only what they mean.

This week helps you: Solve everyday problems and adjust calmly when plans or routines change. Keep track of your keys and glasses, and follow a conversation without losing the thread.

WEEK 4 All four together

New games from all four areas. Play 2 of these each day, changing the mix, and see which area grew the most since day 1.

Single Line — Logic: Fill the whole shape with one continuous line.

Pair Tiles — Memorization: Remember where the pairs of pictures are, then find them on a closed board.

Cross Math — Math: Fill in the missing numbers so every line of the crossword adds up.

Numbers — Focus: Find the numbers in order as fast as you can.

Your 28-day check-in

Tick a circle each day you play. Aim for at least 5 days a week — that is how a habit forms.

	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat	Sun
Week 1	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 2	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 3	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
Week 4	○	○	○	○	○	○	○
